Economics is the study of how economic activities are organized by societies, governments, businesses, households, and individuals by allocating their scarce resources to meet unlimited needs in the perspective of sustainable human development. Economists are well known for advising the government on economic issues, formulating policies for the central bank and at fiscal and the welfare front. It also offers a tool with which to approach questions about the desirability of a particular financial investment opportunity, the benefits and costs of alternative choices and the likely impacts of public policies. The complementary study of econometrics, the primary quantitative method used in the discipline, enables students to become critical consumers of statistically based arguments about numerous public and private issues rather than passive recipients unable to shift through the statistics. Such knowledge enables them to ask whether the evidence on the desirability of a particular policy, claims about the likely future path of the economy, or other issues are compelling or whether it simply sounds good but falls apart upon closer inspection.

In this discipline students learn conceptual and empirical models of behavior to predict responses to changes in policy and market conditions and how statistical and mathematical analysis are used to investigate these changes.

The Department of Economics is renowned for orchestrating an array of academic and artistic galas to enrich the knowledge and perspective of both its mentors and learners. Through academic ventures, it hosts seminars, webinars, panel discussions, and talks delivered by distinguished national and international scholars, economic virtuosos, and policymakers.

To offer students hands-on experience, the department involves them in arranging educational excursions, outings, and the economics festival known as Arthkarni. Arthkarni features a myriad of activities and contests orchestrated by students in collaboration with educators, including debates, quizzes, cultural expressions like singing, poetry, and dancing, all fostering the comprehensive development of students. These endeavours are complemented by initiatives like orientation programs for fresh B.A. (Hons.) Economics students and farewell ceremonies for graduating BA (Hons.) Economics students.

To foster a more inclusive educational environment, the Economics Society, led by a team comprising a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer elected by students, works under the guidance of teachers to oversee the organization of student-centric events throughout the academic year. In essence, the collective efforts of faculty members and students harmonize seamlessly to ensure active and inclusive participation in all annual academic and cultural events, nurturing the holistic growth of both students and educators within the institution. The economics department organizes workshops and seminars to foster growth and enhance learning experience among the students. To promote students' critical thinking and creative writing abilities, Tatva Kranti, a magazine on socioeconomic issues, has been introduced.

Glimpses of the Department Activities

Event Timeline

2025-2026

1) WORKSHOP ON BIOFEEDBACK AND NEUROFEEDBACK

8th September 2026

The Department of Psychology, Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar College, organized an enlightening workshop on Biofeedback and Neurofeedback on the 8th of September 2025, under the guidance of the Teacher-in-Charge, Dr. Malinee Priya. The event was conducted in Computer Lab 1 and witnessed enthusiastic participation and cooperation from both the students and faculty members, particularly Ms. Khushboo Gauttam and Ms. Shruti.

The session was facilitated by Sourav Sharma, Bio and Neuro-feedback facilitator from Conscious Mind Solutions. The facilitator explained how these scientific techniques enable individuals to monitor and regulate physiological functions, thereby bridging the gap between body and mind. The workshop featured live demonstrations of various methods of assessment, using specialized equipment and software. Students observed practical applications of EEG monitoring, skin conductance, and respiratory analysis, which measured parameters such as skin temperature, breathing rate, and, most importantly, brainwave activity across different states of arousal.

Specifically, the facilitator highlighted the clinical utility of these tools in contexts such as exposure therapy, substance withdrawal, panic disorders, and anxiety management, where real-time feedback can help assess the effectiveness of interventions like breathing exercises and relaxation techniques.

Following the demonstrations, the session concluded with a dynamic question-and-answer segment, during which the facilitator addressed the queries and curiosities of students. The workshop ended with closing remarks by the General Secretary of the Psychology Association and Dr. Malinee Priya, who expressed gratitude to the facilitators and encouraged students to further explore the potential of these emerging therapeutic techniques.

2) INVITATION FOR MENTAL HEALTH CONFAB 2026 – 8th October 2025

Youth fest organized by Youth for Mental Health (YMH), held on October 8, 2025, at Little Theatre Group, Delhi in partnership with Sangath and It's Ok To Talk.

3) WORLD MENTAL HEALTH DAY FEST – 9th October 2025

The Students' Psychology Association of Bhim Rao Ambedkar College, University of Delhi, celebrated World Mental Health Day with the theme "Mindful Moments: Caring for Self and Others." The event aimed to promote awareness about emotional well-being and the importance of self-care through interactive sessions and creative stalls. A Mental Health Helpdesk was set up to provide guidance, resources, and peer counselling. Students were encouraged to discuss their mental health concerns openly, learn coping strategies, and engage with psychology volunteers in a supportive environment.

Throughout the day, several engaging and interactive activities were conducted to foster mindfulness, creativity, and self-expression:

The Gratitude Tree encouraged students to write heartfelt messages of gratitude and pin them onto a symbolic tree. The Relaxation Corner offered meditation, mindfulness exercises, and stress-buster pop-pops for relaxation. Through Mandala Art, students expressed different emotions using colours, while the Mood Bracelet (₹10) activity involved creating colourful bead bracelets representing different emotions and balance. At the Happy Song Booth, students scanned QR codes to access uplifting Spotify playlists, and the Positive Lollipop (₹5) activity combined positive affirmations with a ring toss game to win handmade lollipops. The Mirror Self-Appreciation activity promoted self-love through affirmations, while the Comfort Library provided a peaceful space for students to share their favourite comfort movies, shows, books, or activities.

Two insightful sessions were conducted as part of the celebration:

- Offline Session: “Contextualising Clinical Psychology and Mental Health in India”

Time: 12:00 PM – 1:00 PM

Speaker: Dr. Sneh Kapoor, Ph.D. (Clinical Psychology), AIIMS New Delhi, Co-founder of Mann Neeti.

- Online Session: “The Prenatal Origins of Trauma”

Time: 1:00 PM – 2:00 PM

Speaker: Dr. Julie Gerland, Prenatal and Perinatal Psychologist, France.

The event witnessed the gracious presence and active participation of the following faculty members: Mr. Naveen sir, Mr. Indiwari sir, Ms. Neetu maam, Ms. Malini Priya maam. Their encouragement and guidance were instrumental in facilitating both sessions and ensuring the smooth conduct of the fest. Open discussions, the Mirror Self-Appreciation activity, and the

4) WORKSHOP ON QUALITATIVE RESEARCH – 17th October 2025 Theme: Six-Step Model of Thematic Analysis by Braun and Clarke (2006)

The students of the Department of Psychology had the honour of organizing an insightful workshop on Qualitative Research, with a special focus on Thematic Analysis, conducted by Dr. Baiju Gopal, Professor, Department of Psychology, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bangalore.

With over 20 years of teaching and research experience, Dr. Gopal shared his deep expertise in qualitative research methodology, cultural psychology, and psychoanalysis. The session provided valuable insights into the six-step model of Thematic Analysis by Braun and Clarke (2006) and its evolution into Reflexive Thematic Analysis, highlighting the researcher's active role and subjectivity in the analytic process.

The workshop was highly informative and enriching, helping students strengthen their understanding of qualitative research practices. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Navin Kumar for inviting Dr. Baiju Gopal and making this learning opportunity possible.

- 5) Organisational Field Visit
Venue 1: Mallik Radix Hospital
Date: 2nd November 2025

Venue 2: NASVI

Date: 3rd November 2025

Our 3rd-year Psychology students recently undertook insightful organizational visits as part of their Organizational Psychology course — gaining firsthand exposure to the application of psychological principles in professional environments.

The visits to National Association of Street Vendors of India \(NASVI\) (National Association of Street Vendors of India) and Malik Radix Hospital offered students the opportunity to observe workplace behavior, motivation, leadership, and team dynamics in action. Through these interactions, they explored how organizations foster employee engagement, manage stress, and promote effective communication and well-being.

We extend our sincere gratitude to NASVI and Malik Radix Healthcare for warmly hosting our students and sharing their valuable experiences. Such experiential learning plays a crucial role in bridging the gap between academic understanding and real-world practice, shaping our students into future-ready professionals in the field of psychology.

6) LAUNCH OF MINI MAGAZINE (PSYCHVERSE) – 15/11/2025

7) WORKSHOP ON RESEARCH METHODOLOGY – 19/02/26

Guests: Prof. Girishwar Mishra and Prof. Arvind Kumar Mishra

8) OUTLIVE SUICIDE PREVENTION WORKSHOP – 8/04/2026

The session was a powerful step toward building a more open and supportive campus culture. By openly addressing suicide, we took a crucial step in normalizing conversations around mental health and dismantling the silence that often surrounds it. The interactive "Myths vs. Facts" segment was especially impactful, helping participants unlearn common misconceptions and reflect honestly on their own understanding and biases around suicide. This self-awareness is often the first real step toward empathy both for others and for oneself. To ensure this learning extends beyond today, every participant was given a helpsheet with practical guidance and resources for recognizing warning signs and offering support, hoping these tools empower each of you to be a source of comfort to someone in need. A heartfelt thank you to the speakers from Outlive for their expertise and compassion for creating space for this vital dialogue. Most importantly, the event witnessed the gracious presence and active participation of the following faculty members. Together, small conversations like these can create lasting, life-saving change.

Department of Social Work

Dr. Ravindra Singh
(Teacher-In-Charge)

The University of Delhi introduced the B.A. (Hons.) Social Work program in 1995, recognizing the importance of professionalism for social workers at the grassroots and intermediate levels. This revised program, based on the UGCF 2022 and in accordance with the National Education Policy 2020, offers a wide variety of courses to help students understand the national and global contexts of social work in an interdisciplinary mode. As an applied stream of the social sciences and a practice-based program, it comprises classroom teaching and fieldwork practicum in real-life settings.

Classroom teaching is directed towards familiarizing students with the methods, principles and skills required for social work intervention and developing students' personality through inculcation of democratic and humanitarian attributes and values. Field work practicum in social work curriculum is considered the signature pedagogy as it denotes the vital methodology of teaching learning to prepare the students for professional practice. Field work is managed through a network of various NGOs and government organizations working in the field of social welfare and development sectors where the students get first-hand experience of various social issues and programs to address the same. In fact, it is designed to develop social work professionals with essential knowledge, skills, attitudes, and competence to work with various national and international development organizations.

B.A. (Hons.) Social Work is one of the best job-oriented programs, and after completion of this Programme, the students can get employment opportunities both in the public and private sectors. There is also an opportunity for self-employment, as they can establish their own organizations. There are numerous job opportunities in social welfare and development sectors - like family and child welfare, education, health care, community health and nutrition, mental health, youth welfare, women development, elderly, rural and urban development, career guidance, pre & post marital counselling and life coaching, environment and research.

Besides, the social work professionals would also be engaged in providing welfare services, become part of the developmental process, respond to the needs of human rights, social justice, empowerment and liberation of weaker and vulnerable sections of the society.

This is the best suited course for those who have sensitivity towards social concerns and wish to take up challenges to improve the lives of marginalized sections of the society.

Department of Geography

Ms. Kanika
(Teacher-In-Charge)

The Department of Geography is a vibrant and intellectually engaging space that explores the dynamic relationship between the Earth's physical systems and human societies. Geography, as an interdisciplinary and evolving discipline, focuses on understanding spatial patterns and processes—from natural landscapes and climate systems to cities, cultures, economies, and political structures. It equips students to analyze how environments are shaped by human and natural forces, how resources are distributed and managed, and how spatial thinking can help address global and local challenges.

Our curriculum offers a balanced and contemporary mix of foundational subjects and emerging areas of study. Core themes include Physical Geography, Human Geography, Environmental Geography, Political and Economic Geography, Agricultural and Urban Geography, Social Geography, and Geographies of Health and Well-being. The department also emphasizes hands-on skills through specialized courses like Digital Cartography, Remote Sensing, and Geographical Information Systems (GIS)—tools that are highly valued in today's data-driven world.

Further, students engage with real-world issues through applied papers in Disaster Management, Climate Change, and Sustainable Development, nurturing their ability to critically assess and respond to contemporary environmental and societal problems.

The field of Geography opens a wide array of career opportunities, both in government and private sectors, as well as in research and international development. Students graduating in Geography can pursue rewarding careers in:

- Urban and Regional Planning (Smart Cities, Master Plans, Transport Planning)

- Remote Sensing and GIS Analysis (Mapping, Satellite Data Interpretation, Natural Resource Management)
- Environmental Consultancy (Impact Assessment, Climate Change Advisory, Pollution Control)
- Disaster Risk Management (Preparedness, Response, and Mitigation roles with NDMA, UNDP, NGOs)
- Public Policy and Governance (Policy Research, Development Planning, Think Tanks)
- Academia and Research (Universities, Institutes, Research Projects, Fellowships)
- Tourism and Cultural Resource Management
- Cartography and Geospatial Technology (Map-making, Location-based Services, Geomatics)
- Civil Services and Competitive Exams (Geography is a popular optional subject in UPSC and State PCS)
- International Organizations and NGOs (UN agencies, World Bank, ICIMOD, etc.)
- Data Analytics and Geo-marketing (Location Intelligence, Market Planning, Logistics)
- Teaching Profession at School and College levels (After B.Ed./Postgraduation and NET)

Dr Bhim Rao Ambedkar College is one of the few nodal centers for conducting live & interactive courses as part of IIRS outreach programme. Currently our college is registered as Network institute of IIRS/ISRO Outreach network as well. The Department of Geography started this program in February 2019. Since then, our college has conducted many online short term certificate courses on Remote Sensing and GIS technologies for students and teachers.

This wide spectrum of careers ensures that Geography graduates are not confined to one path but are equipped with the analytical, spatial, and technological skills that are increasingly in demand across sectors. The discipline fosters a global perspective, research aptitude, and a deep understanding of sustainability—qualities that make our students future-ready and socially responsible citizens.

Department of History

Dr. Sanjay Sharma
(Teacher-in-Charge)

History has been and continues to be an extremely popular choice among students planning to pursue the bachelor's degree. The discipline, at an academic level, satisfies our craving, to fathom our past, to comprehend the trajectories of the growth of human societies across the world and at the same time helps us unravel and analyze systematically the genesis and the root causes for many of our contemporary problems. History has always been a very popular subject for a variety of competitive examinations given its seamless cohesion with many social science disciplines. Significant shifts in the historiographical concerns in the last half a century have shifted the focus of discourse and research from documenting the plethora of ruling dynasties in Indian History and their historical contexts to a more complex paradigm of exploring the historical changes in social, economic, and cultural domains. This has made the historical enquiry an enriching exercise in analyzing historical questions through interdisciplinary method. For example, Environmental history and Historical geography bring the disciplines of History and Geography together, analyses of political systems and state structures in the past bring History and Political Science together and historical engagements with social issues like caste, gender, education, and such like necessitate some knowledge of Sociology and social theory. History has also emerged as a foundation stone for much more specialized career-oriented courses related to Archaeology, Museology, Heritage and Conservation of Historical materials including monuments and artefacts. Careers such as these are challenging but at the same time provide ample opportunities in this competitive and globalized world. Department of History offers admission in two courses- B.A (Hons.) and B.A (Programme) under NEP scheme adopted by University of Delhi. From this Academic session

2025-26, Department of History will introduce Semester VII/VIII (Fourth Year) under the NEP framework for the students of History B.A. (Hons.) and B.A. (Programme) multidisciplinary.

Sanskrit is not merely a language but the foundational bedrock of human civilization, recognized globally as the oldest structured tongue and the ultimate key to unlocking the profound knowledge traditions of India. Our timeless intellectual and spiritual treasures—the Vedas, Upanishads, Brahmanas, and Aranyakas—were all meticulously composed in this divine script. In the contemporary era, global interest in Sanskrit has witnessed a monumental resurgence. Developed nations like the USA and Germany are actively establishing dedicated centers to teach Sanskrit using traditional 'Gurukul-style' methodologies blended with modern linguistic frameworks, demonstrating its timeless relevance and computational perfection.

At Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar College, the Department of Sanskrit stands as a foundational pillar of academic brilliance, having been offered as a core discipline since the very inception of the institution. Today, the department is at the absolute pinnacle of its glory, fostering a vibrant environment for learning and research. To support our scholars, a specialized and comprehensive section in the college central library is exclusively reserved for the department. This repository houses an extensive collection of curriculum textbooks, rare classical texts, authentic reference materials, and modern research journals.

The department continues to flourish and scale new heights through eminent academic guidance and dedicated leadership. With a steadfast commitment to ensuring the holistic development of students and igniting an enduring passion for classical literature, the department regularly organizes a diverse array of national and international webinars, high-profile lecture series, shloka-recitation competitions, academic debates, and traditional cultural festivals. The Department of Sanskrit does not merely teach a language; it nurtures core human values, refines intellect, and builds an unbreakable bridge to our cultural roots.

ऊर्दू भाषा को छात्र मेजर और माइनर विषय के साथ अपने कोर्स में ले सकते हैं। साथ ही साथ AEC, GE व SEC में भी उर्दू को शामिल कर सकते हैं। वर्तमान समय में हम देखते हैं की उर्दू भाषा का उपयोग इलेक्ट्रॉनिक मीडिया व प्रिंट मीडिया में बहुत अधिक पाया जाता है। इसी कारणवश हम यह कह सकते हैं की छात्र पत्रकारिता के क्षेत्र में भी उर्दू भाषा को एक ऐच्छिक विषय के रूप में शामिल कर सकते हैं। उर्दू विषय से संबंधित उच्च कोटि की अध्ययन सामग्री विश्वविद्यालय के पुस्तकालय में प्रचुर मात्रा में उपलब्ध है। प्रत्येक वर्ष डॉ. भीमराव अंबेडकर कॉलेज का उर्दू विभाग एक दिवसीय सेमिनार का आयोजन करता है, जिसमें विश्वविद्यालय के उर्दू विभाग के विशेषज्ञों को आमंत्रित किया जाता है। छात्रों के हितों को ध्यान में रखते हुए व उन्हें उर्दू भाषा में पारंगत करने हेतु भिन्न-भिन्न प्रकार की प्रतियोगिताएं भी करवाई जाती हैं। हमारे कॉलेज के उर्दू विभाग के अनेकों छात्रों ने यूनिवर्सिटी और कॉलेज स्तर पर अनेकों प्रतियोगिताओं में भाग लिया है और अनेकों उपलब्धियां प्राप्त की हैं।

जैसे : सेंट स्टीफन कॉलेज, दिल्ली यूनिवर्सिटी का मिर्जा गालिब ट्रॉफी में प्रथम स्थान 2019 जामिया मिल्लिया इस्लामिया, दिल्ली बैतबाजी प्रतियोगिता 2018, सत्यवती कॉलेज दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय किज प्रतियोगिता प्रथम स्थान 2023, जाकिर हुसैन दिल्ली कॉलेज (सांध्य) बज्मे अदब गजल प्रतियोगिता 2026 इसके अतिरिक्त उर्दू विभाग की ओर से उर्दू अकादमी और डॉ भीम राव अंबेडकर कॉलेज के सामूहिक प्रयास से गत दिनांक 25 मार्च 2026 को एक कव्वाली का प्रोग्राम किया गया जिसमें दिल्ली के मशहूर कव्वाल ए. के. ब्रदर्स के अपनी शानदार प्रस्तुति के माध्यम से सभी को झूमने पर विवश कर दिया। इसमें कॉलेज के प्रिंसिपल प्रोफेसर श्री सदानंद प्रसाद के साथ साथ अन्य कॉलेज के सभी वरिष्ठ प्रोफेसर्स ने भाग लिया तथा कॉलेज के सभी विद्यार्थियों ने भी इस कार्यक्रम का लुप्त उठाया। इसके अतिरिक्त हमारे कॉलेज के अनेकों विद्यार्थी नेशनल यूथ पार्लियामेंट प्रतियोगिता 2026 में उर्दू विभाग की ओर से प्रथम स्थान प्राप्त किया।

Department of Environmental Studies

Dr. Tulika Sanadhya
(Teacher-In-Charge)

The Department of Environmental Studies at Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar College was established in response to the University of Delhi's initiative to introduce a compulsory course on Environmental Studies for all students. Since its inception in the academic year 2014-15, the department has been imparting environmental education and awareness to students across various disciplines. Under the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) and the New Education Policy (NEP), the course has evolved to provide a comprehensive understanding of environmental issues through an integrated, problem-oriented approach with practical and fieldwork components. Specifically, this paper as an 'Ability Enhancement Course' (AEC-EVS) is divided into a two-year course, comprising two credits in the first year and two credits in the second year, with a theory and practical-based teaching system for all students.

The department adopts an interdisciplinary approach, fostering environmental awareness among students of all disciplines. The course covers a wide range of topics, including ecology, energy resources, biodiversity, conservation, pollution, waste management, environmental policy and practices, human communities, and global climate change. By providing a deep understanding of these issues, the department equips students with the knowledge, skills, and values necessary to address environmental challenges and promote sustainability.

The department collaborates with field experts and organises conferences, workshops, and seminars and promotes field-based research. This enables students to engage with real-world environmental issues and develop practical solutions, creating a community of environmentally conscious individuals who can contribute to sustainable development.

Introduction and Rationale for Existence

The Website Committee acts as the digital custodian of Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar College. In an era of rapid digitization, the college website is not merely an informational portal but the primary interface between the institution and its stakeholders (students, faculty, regulatory bodies, and the public).

The Committee exists to ensure:

- transparency in administration through proactive disclosure.
- Accessibility of educational resources and notifications.
- Representation of the college's vibrant academic culture.
- Preservation of Legacy, specifically reflecting the philosophy and vision of Bharat Ratna Dr. B.R. Ambedkar.

Governance: Rules and Roles

The Committee operates under strict adherence to the University guidelines regarding digital presence and information security.

Rules of Operation

1. Quorum & Regularity: The committee is mandated to meet regularly to review the status of the website. Decisions are taken based on a majority consensus.
2. Accountability: Data uploaded must be verified by the respective Heads of Departments (TICs) or Conveners before publication to ensure accuracy.
3. Responsiveness: Urgent notifications (exams/admissions) must be uploaded within a stipulated timeframe (24 hours).

Roles of Members

- Convener: Chairs the meetings, liaises with the Principal/Administration, and oversees the strategic direction of the website.
- Faculty Members: Responsible for collecting data from various departments and committees. They act as the bridge between the technical team and the academic staff.
- Technical Assistant/Web Admin: Executes the coding, uploading, and maintenance of the server and backend infrastructure.

Summary of Proceedings (Meetings 1–6)

To date, the Committee has convened six (6) formal meetings during this session. These meetings focused on the holistic development, aesthetic overhaul ("ambiance"), and functional expansion of the website.

Key Agenda Points Discussed Across Meetings:

- Ambiance & UI/UX: shifting from a static layout to a dynamic, user-friendly interface.
- Data Decentralization: Creating a pipeline for departments to submit data systematically.
- Thematic Integrity: Ensuring the website visually reflects the dignity and ethos of the college's namesake.

Execution of Tasks & Achievements

Following the strategic discussions, the committee distributed tasks among members to ensure comprehensive coverage. The following milestones were achieved:

A. Uploading of College Committee Details

To foster administrative transparency, the committee undertook a massive drive to digitize the records of all Staff Council Committees.

- Action Taken: Dedicated pages were created for committees (e.g., ICC, Proctorial Board, NSS, NCC).
- Content: Updated lists of members, annual objectives, minutes of meetings, and activity reports were uploaded.

B. Updating Departmental Details

Recognizing that academic departments are the backbone of the college, the website was updated to reflect current academic standards.

- Action Taken: Faculty profiles were standardized to include research interests and publications.
- Syllabi & Time Tables: The latest NEP-based syllabi and current semester timetables were synchronized for easy student access.

C. Depiction of Baba Saheb's Role in Social Upliftment

A major focus of this year's work was to ensure the website serves as a beacon of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's philosophy. The committee agreed that the website's "ambiance" must reflect his struggle and vision.

- Visual Tribute: A dedicated section/banner has been conceptualized to highlight Dr. Ambedkar's contribution to the Constitution and social justice.

- Resource Corner: Plans were executed to curate links to his writings, speeches, and the preamble of the Constitution, ensuring visitors understand the college's foundational values.

5. Way Forward: Future Upgradation Plans

While significant progress has been made, the Committee has outlined a roadmap for the near future to bring the website to global standards:

1. Accessibility Compliance: upgrading the code to be fully accessible for Visually Impaired students (Screen Reader compatibility), in line with inclusivity guidelines.
2. Alumni Portal Integration: Creating a dynamic login-based section to reconnect with the alumni network.
3. CMS Implementation: Moving toward a Content Management System that allows non-technical staff to update basic notices, reducing bottlenecks.
4. Mobile Responsiveness: Further optimizing the site for mobile devices, as 80% of student traffic originates from smartphones.

The Website Committee remains dedicated to ensuring that the digital face of Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar College is professional, informative, and deeply rooted in the values of the institution. We thank the administration for their continued support.
